

FCC Commissioners
The Federal Communications Commission RE: Docket 04-435
445 12th Street, SW
Washington, DC 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners ,

I am writing to voice my concerns about the FCC's proposal to relax the restrictions on the use of cell phones on airplanes in flight.

There is no hard evidence that cell phone use doesn't interfere with navigational instruments. The introduction of cell phone use in the cabin will not only increase tension among passengers, it will compromise flight attendants' ability to maintain order in an emergency. Cell phone use could also enable terrorists to coordinate a plan of action more effectively.

Don't let people use cell phones on airplanes. It just isn't a good idea. You can't make people be polite and considerate, but you can ensure the safety of all passengers by banning cell phone usage on airplanes, unless there is an absolute emergency that needs to be address.

Please leave the current rules in effect.

Sincerely,

Margaret Beaudoin
